BUFFALO & ERIE COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY MASTER PLAN & RESTORATION

Buffalo, New York

A significant element along the northeast edge of the Frederick Law Olmsted designed Delaware Park, the Pan-American Building (Buffalo & Erie County Historical Society), the only remaining structure from the 1901 Pan-American Exposition and a National Historic Landmark. HHL used careful planning to assess the impact of the client's requirements for additional space.

Expansion needs for artifact storage and display were met through restoration of a nearby, off-site facility (Resource Center), and administrative requirements were satisfied with the acquisition and renovation of the adjacent Julia Boyer Reinstein Center.

Recent projects include the roof and historic portico restoration.
